
Listings of Horse Rescue Organizations

There are many organizations across the nation saving hundreds of horses each year, all breeds and all ages. This list is a helpful resource for finding equines and equine rescues that need you. If you know of a rescue that is not listed here, please send us a link so we may add it to our list.

Most of the rescue organizations you will find in this list are non-profit and need donations to continue to save animals. We urge you to find a rescue organization close to you and support it with your time, needed supplies, monetary donations, or adopt a rescued horse and benefit the rescue, the horse and your heart!

Check out the list below to find a rescue close to you!

If you know of a rescue that is not listed here, please send us a link so we may add it to our list.

We keep the links fresh, so if you do not see your organization here any longer, it is because the link we had failed. We would love to reinstate the organization's place in the list with a current URL.

And, of course, we have to say rescue organizations listed here are not endorsed by HelpingEquines.com. Please do remember to check out the organization before donating.

Thank you!
